A YOUNG MAN who has in mind his best interests, if he is desirons of entering the radio profession, will naturally select the newstradio school in the city. It stands to reason that such a school could not prosper if it did not adopt the very latest, most approved and up-to-date methods. Such is the LOOMIS RADIO SCHOOL, 401-411 9th st. n.w., which will open for classes tonight at 7 o'clock. We have on our staff the best men in the radio profession in this section of the country. Our school is centrally located, newly decorated throughout and its large commodious code and lecture rooms thoroughly equipped with apparatus. The proprietors of this school have made a study of the methods adopted heretofore by radio schools, have had long experience in this line of work and have not only steered clear of the faults in past methods of instruction, but have added many new features by which the study of this profession has been simplified and made still more interesting to the beginner.
